

Defeat operational challenges. Regain control.

Summary

Founded in 2004 by Tony Gruebl, Think provides Executive Advisory, PMO Development and Support, Strategic and Tactical Project Management, and Strategic Hiring. Think takes the full spectrum of organizational solutions and applies them to technology, long-term visioning, strategic alignment, project management and the sourcing of employees who align with your company culture.

Tony Gruebl and Jeff Welch created an operational framework called Bare Knuckled Project Management based on the book BKPM (<http://amzn.com/0615813941>), coauthored with Michael Dobson. The Think team is currently authoring another book (due in 2019) that describes a new framework for developing PMOs and measuring their effectiveness.
